We are reinventing business for the New Millenia

The New Millenia Company's mission is to invest in people who are stuck working for a boss or company where their talents are not appreciated, where they are more education and/ or experienced than those they are working for but for some reason never got that big break.

We are looking for like minded business students who want to be part of this new venture, reply with your resume and what your main goals as far as career wise!!
