Do you suffer from irritating side effects from your OCD medication such as sexual dysfunction or weight gain? Have a desire to become pregnant, but want to come off your meds first? Just plain sick of taking meds for your OCD?

If so, you may be eligible to participate in a research study for adults with OCD who want to try to stop taking SRIs. Those who qualify will receive 14 weeks of medication management and one of two programs, where our experienced study psychiatrist and staff members will support you in slowly and safely tapering off your meds, while monitoring your symptoms weekly, free of charge. In addition, you may be compensated up to $100 for your time in completing interviews and questionnaires during, at the end, and 6 months following treatment.

Our past research shows that many patients can come off SRIs with little to no worsening of their symptoms. So give us a call at or visit www.butler.org/tops, for more information! We look forward to hearing from!
