I am looking for a handful of writers who are interested in joining a new website that is dedicated to media criticism and pop culture commentary. The site launched less than a month ago with only one full-time writer, but has already started to generate regular traffic and ad revenue. All that is needed at this point is regular writing staff!

Right now, we have openings for the following writing positions:

- Film/television/music critics
- Political/cultural commentators
- Sports media critic
- General opinion columnists

Overall, the tone and style of the site would be best described as profane, unapologetic and edgy. We are specifically seeking out writers who can provide biting yet entertaining content. Also, bringing new and fresh ideas to the table is a huge plus. Previous online writing experience is preferred, but not absolutely necessary.

Compensation will be based on revenue sharing. If you are interested, or just want some more information about the site and owner, please respond to this ad.
