We recently adopted this beautiful male cat. He was left in the shelter by someone and was very afraid. He is very energetic, playful and loves to lay on your lap and sleep on your feet.

Reason For adoption:

My fiances mom just found out she has a rare form of cancer and cannot take care of the cat that we've had for 4 years. We live in a 1 bedroom apartment and tried to see how the cats would react to each other for a month and it was not good. When separated they are fine, just not together.

Its very hard for me to give this cat up for adoption because I'm a huge animal person and would keep them both but I've talked to the vet and he also agreed that its not right to keep them both if they are hurting one another.

Cats Description:

Grey with white around the eyes. Big gold eyes. 15 lbs of cuteness 1.5 yrs old. Lines and spots on the fur.

Loves: anything with a bell, small fluffy mice, fluffy blankets, scratching post and playing with water.

Hates: Being rubbed on the stomach.
