SuperHeroes Unlimited is a local Morristown, New Jersey based company supplying cosplayers and others with props/costume's and all around fun geeky toys! We are currently looking for individuals who make these style of items. Our aim is to become a one stop shop for all handmade one of a kind geek culture items.

We currently have an online store front we are looking to put more items on. That's where YOU come in. Have something cool and geeky you made yourself? We want to hear from you!

Our goal is to bring many different types of people and skill sets under one roof in order to offer our customers a central contact point.

All the time we hear of people turning down work because they are not able to complete all of it because they don't have all the skills needed to do it. We get rid of that problem. With the diverse set of skills and people we never have to turn a customer away. We take all the hassle out of projects.

We take your projects and sell them through our site at no cost to you. There is no charge at all at any point. You don't have to deal with the customer at any point. Your item goes online and when orders come in we contact you with work! It's that simple.

Please look at our site and etsy page before contacting us.
