I have been a professional photographer here in Las Vegas for over 15 years and my work has been published in magazines all around the world. I'm currently doing a studio shoot next Wednesday, July 22nd and had a creative idea for a really clever, artistic nude shoot that I'd like to do with at least 2-3 different models. Some would be solo photos, some may be with another model. The concept would be capitalizing on a current photography trend and while you would be fully nude for the photo shoot, the resulting images would have you covered so it would be more of an implied shoot. This is something that would be a really creative addition to your portfolio. For more information on the specifics of the shoot and a link to my website and blog, please respond with a link to your portfolio or Model Mayhem page along with your contact information. This is a TFP shoot and you will receive approximately 5-7 retouched photos from the shoot. This shoot would be in the early afternoon so please, only respond if you are available at that date and time.!
