In today's economic market, having a professionally written business plan can be worth its weight in gold, as many financial institutions require one for funding consideration.

A business plan can be used to assist your startup or existing business to get loans, attract new investors and keep your company on track and follow the road map for success.

One of the main reasons entrepreneurs do not have a business plan, is that it takes a great deal of time and energy to prepare. The Small Business Administration states that on average it takes some business owners about 400 hours to complete the research, writing, editing, and financials of a standard business plan.

Unfortunately most entrepreneurs simply do not have the time to invest or in some cases the expertise to create this incredibly detailed highly complex financial document. With the huge buzz of activity and many new VC opportunities, it's essential your company has the proper financial documents to solidify your plans.

With so many great niche markets available and so many hungry investors ready to launch the next big thing, it's a very exciting time. If your wish is to one of the successful few that are able to present a well prepared business plan, written in the SBA format that is bank ready than look no further.

We have personally completed over 500 business plans over the years with many of those plans being funded by banks, private investors, the SBA, venture capital and other funding institutions. We work hands on with a small very personal staff that will write, edit, research, and provide the real life business experience needed to complete your plan. Most business plans can be drafted in one to two weeks after we complete a phone interview to assess your overall picture and collect the required information.

Each business plan is typically 25-40 pages and contains an Executive Summary, marketing, product/ service data, all Financial Tables/charts and custom formatting. The business plan is provided in Digital Form (MS Word and secure link for Flip-Page Magazine Format).

You will love our work as we offer the most complete business plan service and product available. We would love the opportunity to speak with you and provide the work to help you achieve your business startup and expansion goals.
