

drummer looking for someone to play music with

Location Vermont
<https://www.genclassifieds.com/x-568976-z>

I'm 22 years old and living with my parents for the summer.
I am a decent drummer with a good sense of rhythm but I don't really like memorizing music that much. I am just looking for someone to jam and practice with. I have drums and a space to play music or I can also move my set around in my car if need be.

I'm not too concerned with what instrument you play or what type of music you play. I generally like to play funk, hip-hop, and r&b or straightforward rock but I guess drums don't dictate the genre that much. I'm pretty open to anything so please reach out! There aren't that many people around here to play music with.

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

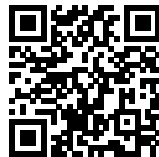

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

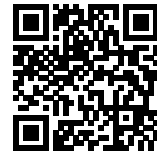

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with

drummer looking for someone
to play music with