The NuStep T4r Recumbent Cross-Trainer is not your average exercise machine. It is used by patients recovering from surgeries to athletes training for the Olympics, even used by "The Biggest Loser" contestants. (Visit nustep.com for testimonials & detailed information).

It was purchased for my dad after his accident and he spent a few weeks in a local rehab facility. The facility had several NuStep machines and my dad loved using it so much, that we purchased one for his personal use at home.

He was able to use it only briefly as his health declined rapidly. It is in new.
