POSITION DESCRIPTION

Century 21 Eastbay is seeking a bright, energetic, and organized individual with high standards of excellence for a summer internship. The ideal candidate is a college student available at least 15 hours per week during the summer. Additional projects may be available during the school year.

As a paid intern, you will work directly with the firm's Business Division Manager on a variety of social media marketing and public relations (PR) projects. Success in the position will be measured in increased book sales and increased visibility of our firm to prospective clients. You will use social and traditional media to provide education and "touches" to existing and prospective clients and the public through newsletters, email, and various websites. Excellent writing skills along with the ability to synthesize financial content into eye-catching, pithy soundbites are required. You'll get the opportunity to flex your creative muscles strategizing, creating, and executing a social media marketing campaign with our small team.

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

- * Assist in the research and writing of content for social media platforms (Facebook, Twitter, Google+, LinkedIn, etc.)
- * Draft posts from existing content and from current news stories
- * Assist in the development and execution of a PR strategy utilizing both traditional and social media
- * Create and manage a PR and social media calendar
