I'm looking for a guy that is a good actor. Male, between 30 to 40, nice looking or looks 30-40. Looks good in a suit, driving a nice car is a plus, knowledge of wine a plus. My friend's girlfriend is playing the field and telling him lie after lie. He is starting to wonder things, things that don't add up. So I came up with this plan to weed her out and of course his friend's can't play so we need someone else. I figure maybe someone could act like they like her, slip her your number, stop by her work to get her attention every so often. I currently looking for someone interested in doing this but it might not play out for a few months. If you are interested, send me a picture of you, your current occupation and what kind of car, something that doesn't look like a junker. If you don't send a picture I will not even look at the email, since you didn't read this all the way
