Been playing a long time. Great skill and equipment. Is this area devoid of genuine musical creativity or what? Covers and standards EVERYWHERE. Looking to start from the ground up, not to step in as a substitute for someone else. Way too one of kind original for that nonsense. Think Less Clay Pool, Dennis Dunaway, Jonas Helborg, and Geezer Butler all wrapped up into one plus a bunch of signature moves unique to me. Looking for a REAL BAND scenario here, not a "here learn this material and get back with us" bunch of pretenders that really don't know what they want to do anyway. I need a group of human beings that know who and what their musical identities are, and most importantly, that that want and need others like themselves to merge and co-create with. Not musicians whose creative musical identity changes like the weather here in Michigan. I sincerely detest the "say one thing, do another" mentality. Lets get together and write and perform some seriously killer rock centered material that's unique and exciting to express ourselves by. Be art, do art, live art. Really, how the F art thou? ;-)
