Last night around 11:00 pm a small black and white kitty came to my house begging for food and attention. She was very pregnant and all skin and bones. She was for sure not a stray as she was extremely friendly. I gave her some food and water and a blanket to sleep on but i couldnt bring her inside because of my dog. She was gone this morning when i got up. If you have lost your prego kitty in or around rockland let me know and ill do my best to return her. If i dont here from anyone in the next couple days and she comes back im going to take her to the local shelter so they can take good care of her and her babies until they get homes. I just want to let everyone know, my local shelter is a no kill shelter and will hold these kitties till they all get:)
