Looking to hire an extremely diligent casting director of casting intern for a short film set to being pre-production within the next month. The film set to begin shooting in mid-November in New Orleans and is expected to appear in 4 film festivals in the U.S. and planning to submit overseas. IMDb credit is in the works!

Here's the story:

Thirteen year old Sullivan is awakened to the realization that due to his bad behavior, he is being sent to Louisiana to visit his grandmother as punishment. Upon spending his first night and his grandmother's mysterious old house, he experiences what feels like a supernatural experience with a ghost. When he tries to recount the story to his parents of why he couldn't wake up from being choked, they laugh and brush his story off as having been experienced "sleep paralysis." When an explanation of his horrible nightmares are finally revealed from his Cajun grandmother, he struggles to find a way to right all his wrong doings, to make the ghost leave him alone forever.
