I don't know who the person complaining about this but I do believe this business to be legit. She took in a stray, pregnant cat that someone found and didn't know what to do with. She has a good reputation so they brought it to her. After all the kitties found homes, the mama was spayed and all shots were given. Then I was lucky enough to get her for free and she is a wonderful cat. When I went to the house it was spectacular, lots of land, animals roaming free (not doggies). House was super clean and her mom was there to show me the cat. The dogs were very well behaved and hushed when spoken to in a kindly fashion. So what if they have people go to the tanning salon for an adoption day. The home is way out in the country, sometimes you have to bring the little ones to the city so people can see them. Gosh this person's post is really hard to see. Sounds like sour grapes to.
