hi! I need an affordable, hip place to live in Atlanta. I'm 29, male, seeking a room or roommate(s) in Atlanta as soon as possible. I would like to keep rent around or under $500 monthly. I am a musician and I come with a piano which I would be more than happy to share with you, provided you let me play on a daily basis :) -- I also have keyboards so I can plug in the headphones when silence is needed. I would prefer living with other artists or musicians but would work well with any other professionals. I teach music lessons full-time on weekday evenings in Alpharetta, Milton, and Johns Creek and play the occasional out-of-town gig but will be around most of the time. I really miss living in the city and want to get back in its energy and meet some fun new people. I would prefer something on the ground level (piano, remember?) and I own 2 small dogs. They are toy poodles, and are crate/potty trained and well enough behaved. Taking care of my pets is not expected of any roommates, but I would obviously prefer to live with another animal lover. I am a very clean person, but not on an OCD level. I do, however, keep things organized and tidy and keep chores up to date. I'm also a kick-ass mechanic and can probably save you a lot of money on motor vehicle upkeep ;) totally serious. I'm open to male or female roommates, of any age, religion, race, creed, or career. You may add me on Facebook to further snoop into my persona. In any particular case I would like to meet you in person over lunch or something to continue the "interview" process, and I will assume you'll want me to run a background check (I'm clean). As far as finding a place to live, I want to move as soon as is humanly possible so if you've got an open room, hit me! If you're looking for a place, hit me and we'll team up on the!
