

Weekend childcare for my 4 year old in your home or mine. (SeafordGreenwoodBridgeville)

I'm looking for weekend childcare for my 4-year-old little girl. She has an older sister whose Daddy takes her on weekends, but, unfortunately, my little girls Daddy died (Succumbing to illness), and he isn't able to take care of her on weekends while I work. I'm looking ideally for a family to become a surrogate family to her. To include her in their weekend activities, meals, church?, outings, etc. Im happy to pay for costs for her related to whatever activities your family is doing. I want a family to get to know her, love her, and treat her like one of your own. I don't have any family near, or even afar that are willing to take care of her, and my friends are all too far, most of them working weekends and so many obligations, they are unable to help. Logistics is the biggest issue for us.

She is a energetic, lively, happy little girl. Full of spirit, laughter, and fun. Loves running and playing outside, or with dolls, balls, cars, puzzles, games, reading books. Enjoys "helping you cook, do laundry, clean, etc). Watches some childrens shows : Dora, Ruff, Ruff, Tweet & Dave, etc when she is relaxing. Loves playing in water, playground activities, she is a little entertainer, who loves to make you smile. She eats just about anything, and if she doesnt, she usually tries it, even to tell you she doesnt like ot, lol.

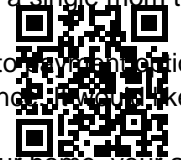

I'm ideally looking for a family, who has an extra bed, room in their home and heart to take care of my little girl on weekends. This would be from after school/evenings on Friday, until Sunday evening at some point, at which my older daughter's father would then pick her up and keep her at my home until I return home.

I work weekend double shifts, almost 90 minutes from my home. I'm looking for someone local for picking up and dropping off, which is why I listed the surrounding area. Should you be further away and are willing to do the picking up and dropping off, I am happy to consider the arrangement.

I am also open to a mom coming and spending weekends at my home while I am away, bringing your own children. We could discuss specifics with this situation. It's certainly doable, if that would interest you. Even switching up during the weekends or alternating weekends, if you wanted time away from your own home for a change, or for whatever arrangement we came up with. If you are willing to do light housekeeping (other than tending to my daughter), we could discuss this: as well as additional compensation for your help. Its a struggle as a single mom trying to get everything done.

I am looking for weekend childcare open to any conditions. This would be every weekend unless my youngest daughter was attending in her school activities. My older sister, who would be taking her in advance. It would likely be longer than one week or one month.

Please respond with your location, about your home, your age, your family (if any) what weekends are like for your family. Respond with what pay would be acceptable for your time about your home or mine. I am a non smoker and non drug user once appt. Christian preferred. Be open to having background checks.
