Need help moving furniture and households around town. Will be a long term situation for the right person. Will start part time and when proven can easily be a full time income. Though it seems hard to find people willing to just show up and be responsible. But I am holding out hope to find someone great and nice.

Must be strong and not have back problems.

Moving experience a huge plus but not necessary.

I am easy to work with, and generous.

Might be $200 this week, could be $800 next week, or if we have a long day at work you could make $300 in one day. Must have a smile, a good attitude, and be good with people.

You don't need to be available all the time, just let me know your situation.

Email me something that gives me a reason to interview you, not "hey, is the job available."

I work with people, i need someone with great people skills.

Thank you for taking the time to apply. I promise i will read and consider all.
