Good day to all of those reading this. I am making a trip to Washington State in particular to Bellingham, WA in October. This trip will either have me heading west on Thursday, October 1st, or Thursday, October 30th and coming back east on either Wednesday, October 7th, or Wednesday, November 4th.

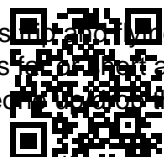

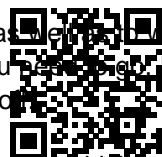

I am currently undecided between finishing this and leaving it, as we have no what pain that it would take. It may be listed close to the many round. When I pick up anywhere along the way, and I would like you as soon as you can. I do ask that you be more than 20 miles off the road as I don't want to add a ton of the drive to the trip. I am sorry to pick someone to do this for me.

Gas money is the only requirement for a ride, but if you can help with driving that is a major plus. I am a sane, clean, late 20s male with a fairly clean driving record outside of a couple speeding tickets. NO smoking in the car, no drugs of any kind are to be brought in the car. Depending on who needs to go which direction, I have room for up to 3-4 people/cargo as I drive a crossover SUV and will be packing fairly tight myself.

This will be getting posted in most of the cities I intend to be near, if you'd like to discuss the arrangements, intend to renew this posting approx every 7-10 days between now and my trip for any of those who didn't see it the first time, please message me or can txt to six o five, two o one, four four seven seven, can call as well, but I work strange hours so messages and txts are
