Hello!

My husband and I are looking for overnight care for when our baby is born in late August/September! Must have reliable transportation! Here are the two options we are considering:

- 1) Having a nanny come in 1-3 nights a week to take care of diapering/changing/bottle feeding and bringing our baby into the bedroom so he can nurse. Main point would be to give hubby and I as much sleep as possible. Would like to add light housecleaning as well, if possible.
- 2) The second option we are considering is having a live-in situation with our nanny, where we would offer free room, board, utilities, internet, and a small monthly stipend in exchange for overnight care 5 nights a week, the occasional date afternoon/night, as well as light housecleaning. This would be perfect for a college student! No drinking in the house and no guests at the house. We work from home, so we will be home 24/7 and would like to keep our home as peaceful and as stress-free as possible.

This would be for the first 3-4 months of our baby's life! Please contact us and let us know which option you're interested in, what your availability is, whether or not you're willing to do light housecleaning, and what your rates!
