Hi, i need to sell my car ASAP. Just graduated from school and im selling my car to pay off some loans. Its a great running car that I used while in college and has a few scratches. Nothing major on the car, the only thing that I will urge the new buyer to do is replace the center console fabric cover. The fabric started to get loose from the console which is now pretty much just hanging there. You can replace that for like 100 bucks easily at a auto upholstery store. Other than that, the car is honestly really good. It has a clean carfax/title and has 154k miles. No Navi, but it does has an Aux port which is the one thing i asked my dad to make sure when he got the car for me. I am FIRM on price, unless you have a pretty dam good offer, meaning NO LOWBALLS. If you have any questions, call or text me please. Look forward to your reply

Thanks
Izy
