Hey all, I have been off and on Craigslist a while. I have delved here and there in search of a great connection (only meeting a few contacts) however I believe my style is very unique and tough to accommodate. I am indeed a metal head, I can almost assure you that 90% of people around here walk around every day with no knowledge of the music that I listen to and yearn to have in my life. Don't get me wrong I listen to all genres, it's just a matter of how long I listen to them. Ronnie James Dio, Phil Collins and Tom waits have been some major influences of mine. I would love to do some vocals/lyrics. I can jam with a guitar or drums. I would be down for rock/metal/bluesish/postrock whatever it may be ill at least give it a shot #fuckit I don't have gear for vox quite yet but I do however have other equipment. I'm going to be 28 here in August. Even a mentor of sorts would be great. Contact me if you would like.
