I shared my Costco membership like this when I was living on the west coast, and it worked out great... 1/2 price membership, and if we want, we can go together on bulk purchases that we both need, but are too much individually. I'm a single male. I just joined last week. They have a Instant Savings books periodically, the savings from which will probably pay for your membership! Let me know what you think... I could meet you at Sam's anytime that's good for you to get you your card. This is a good deal... buying bulk will save you money! Please text me if interested, thanks.
