Our educational company is seeking a marketing event coordinator to (1.) research and set up events once or twice a month to reach parents, as well as (2.) manage promoters at events to ensure they are working effectively.

About the events you will coordinate:

- The events can be as simple as canvassing a targeted apartment complex to speak to parents or coordinating reps to attend to an event that is already going on in the community in which we can reach parents.
- The events can also be as sophisticated as setting up a location with a community partner and creating an event hosted at their location in which we would present to parents to learn more about our educational program.

We pay both hourly rate for setting up and managing reps at canvassing events + bonuses based on the success of each events.

We are looking for a self motivated, enthusiastic, out going people person that can motivate and manage others effectively. The candidate must be resourceful, organized and well in tune with the local community to know the best places we can reach our target market parents.

Compensation: $18.00/ hour
This position is based from home.
