Just graduating college and looking for your first job? Having difficulty getting results on your jobs search?

Albert's List is a growing community on Facebook of 7,674 members of job seekers, recruiters, hiring managers and team members of companies from Google to Tesla Motors to your average early-stage startup in the San Francisco/Silicon Valley region. Over 1,000 new people joined our group last month and it continues to be active. Whether you're looking for a software engineering role or a marketing manager position, we can help you get connected!

No, we're not another job board. We're a community of connectors and we're here to assist you. Join our group here: https://www.facebook.com/groups/
