REHOMING FEE REDUCED AGAIN TO $50

I have two cats I am looking to re-home. They are sisters, will be a year old Labor Day. They are both completely indoor, spayed, up to date on shots, litter box trained and de-clawed on the front.

One is Siamese looking "Archie" (cream with dark gray legs, ears, face, and tail, and blue eyes). She is very cuddly and follows me around the house all the time. She talks to me too. She doesn't know a stranger.

The other is solid black longer hair with orange eyes "Vader". She is a bit more standoffish but she likes to cuddle sometimes too.

They are both super sweet, barely pet them and they start purring. I am needing to place them as a pair. They have grown up together and I don't think they could handle being separated. They are fine with other cats, but have never been around dogs before so I assume they would be scared.

I am asking a $50 (was $200 originally) rehoming fee because of the money we have invested in them with their spay, declaw, shots, and to ensure they go to a good home.
