I have a set of horse blankets and some other things for horses that I cannot identify. They were on a shelf in a shed for years and smell musty and dusty. I do not see them as in unusable shape, though they are not new.

I am not a horse person at all. I do not know what they really are, how to care for them, and what sort of prices to use for them at Craigslist or eBay, etc. I would like for someone to come to identify them and advise me.

We can work out what compensation: A few dollars, first choice of the items (if they have any value), permission to fish from my back yard or whatever else we can agree upon.
