I'm currently working on a creative portraiture project & seeking models. I'm looking for a couple looks in particular that I'm missing from my main portfolio, however for this project I'm willing to work with a wide variety of styles to make the final product more interesting.

The focus of the project is creative storytelling via portraiture. So I want to create a narrative while still keeping the model the primary focus of the photo. Each set will have a different idea to drive it (a song that inspires you, a childhood dream, a favorite story or movie etc). If this sounds like something interesting to you, please contact me and we'll see what we can put together.

Please respond with 3-4 photos showing you both face & full body as well as any experience modeling (not needed but nice) and any ideas you might be interested in exploring. I can't wait to hear from you!

The specific styles I'm searching for are:

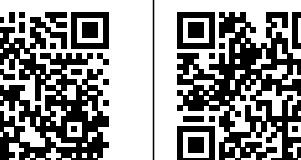

- Men (All!)
- Women (All!)
- Caucasian (red hair & freckles)
- Indian/middle eastern
- Asian
