De-clawed white and gray tabby mix with partly long fur. She has white fur on her tummy and paws with a patch of white on her back. She's very loving and friendly with children and adults. She loves being held, petted and enjoys snacking on grass clipping, rolling around on the floor like a dog and sleeping on your bed or on the chair along side you. Sweet and lovable. Litter box trained. She eats both dry and wet canned food but she does not eat table scraps. She is a rescue that we received from a friend earlier this year but as the months went by we noticed that we are becoming sensitive to her fur. Both of us are allergic to all long haired animals. We love her but we're finding that we can't keep her. Please bring your own carrier. She will have her food bowl and her litter box. There is no re homing fee we just want her to have a loving home that will love and take good care of her. Only reason we have her on Craigslist is that we don't want to take her to a shelter. If you would like more information please
