Will pay for meaningful conversations. Will pay extra, if the listener's feelings are validated as a result. Degree in psychology, philosophy or mathematics, while a plus, is not required. Interested candidates must submit a short essay on a favorite topic of their choice. Examples of such topics include (but are not limited to):

Theory of large numbers
 On partially ordered sets
 Is the reality fundamentally discrete or continuous?
 Did God play dice with the universe?
 How does one cope with the unbearable lightness of being?
 On Seymour's Fat Lady
 Prisons we choose to live inside
 Perfect vacuum
 Racism as a sign of intellectual laziness
 The genetic significance of meiosis

Essays should be one to three pages long, accessible enough to a college undergraduate (or your grandmother, for that matter), but interesting enough to motivate the said undergraduate to learn more about the topic.

If interested, contact for email address for essay submission.

The rate will be negotiated after the candidate's essay passes qualification. No agency solicitations,.
