If you dig poetry...then that is cool.
 If you dig art...even cooler
 And you say you are all up on music too?
 Well damn! I think you would like some of my work...please check it out if ya dig :)

Charcoal In Your Teeth
 There is charcoal in your teeth
 Is it there from chewing on me?
 From trying to filter lies through my skin?
 From trying to clean yourself by burning my first with your sin?

There are diamonds in your eyes
 They twinkle because of lies
 But they are the diamonds you will never find
 Because you are to obsessed with still trying to find mine

There is a shadow in your smile
 I guess it's been there for a while
 But I have been a spark locked in a heart shaped basement
 You took the lock to my heart and changed it
