HELP! Terrible person led us on, all week said they were picking up our cats, said she was excited to get them. She was supposed to come this morning, so I had my children say their tearful goodbyes, I dumped the litter boxes and cleaned them out completely, loaded my car with all their stuff, and was supposed to meet her at 11. She called at 10:30, and we had to make other arrangements because one cat was giving me trouble and afraid to get in the carrier. She got directions, said she was stopping to get cat food for them, Then she NEVER SHOWED UP!!! Can you believe that? How awful!! We waited and waited(still waiting), poor cat in the carrier just crying and crying. So if a Suzi B. emails you about adopting your cats, and tells you the same, don't believe it. Somehow she gets a kick out of making life worse for people. We have enough horrible things happening right now, and she got a kick out of making it that much worse for us. No call back saying she changed her mind, nothing.

But we have two cats, aged 4 and 3 years old that we must find a new home for. We are losing our home, and can't find a place that we can afford that will take cats. We just found out Friday that we have to be out immediately, and so I don't even have a home for me or the kids right now. It is very heartbreaking for my girls, but I have tried and tried. We need them to go to a good home, preferably together. They have never been apart, and Pepper, the 3 year old, is very attached to Kitty, the 4 year old. They are related, Kitty is Pepper's aunt. They are free to a loving home, and we will give all of their litter boxes, toys, cat tower, etc. Contact me with interest, I can send pictures. Pepper is white with black on her, and kitty is just a gray mixed color. Please help, want to know they will be loved. We will have to take to a shelter if we can't place them by Wednesday of next week.
Thanks Suzi.
