I am a loving, reliable, preschool teacher available for night and weekend babysitting. My name is Meagan and have a true passion to love and educate children. I have been caring for children for 13 years. Currently a pre-school teacher at Celebree learning center. I am first aid and cpr certified. I have several certifications including 45 hr infant and toddler, discipline, adhd, sids, child development, ect. A side from my professional experience I am a proud mother of 3 young children. I can provide proof of certifications and references.

I have a clean background and driving record. I am flexible on rates as I know how hard it is to find a quality childcare at a reasonable price. I prefer to come to your home so your children are in their natural atmosphere to make the transition to a new sitter alot easier for the children.

I believe in learning through play to help develop and expand upon imagination. I also have a reliable van so I am able to have outings to parks, the library, and local events.

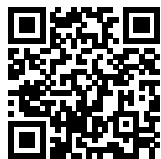

I look forward to hearing from you!

Thanks,
