Jeremiah is an overly handsome seal point Siamese Himalayan-type cat with a gorgeous long thick coat of fur. He is a somewhat high maintenance cat and will need someone who can properly care for him throughout all of his needs. First, he does require regular brushings because of his long thick fur. His fur, especially around his butt area, clumps often and he gets aggravated with trying to groom himself. Second, he is prone to ear mites. He has been under medication several times since being here and if needed, medication will be sent along. The medication is an ointment and works great and very easy to apply thankfully. Third, he requires a super clean litter box. He is very picky and requests his litter be cleaned as often as possible. So long as his litter box is kept clean, he will use it just fine. He is also good with other cats, calmer dogs, and gentle children. He just wants to be spoiled. All of this information is provided so there are no surprises with his adoption and so that he can get the best home for his needs.
 Approx Age: 2 years old
