I've played guitar most my life and played gigs here and there, and I really enjoy doing it.
I'd love to find someone who would like to do a little acoustic two man band. Preferably someone who can sing, playing guitar as well would just be a plus. I'm not quite a lead singer but I know pitch and harmony very well so I could do decent back up vocals.
I'd love to play at little coffee shops and what not, so let me know if you're equally as interested. No preference on male or female.
Interested in:
Folk, country, alternative/indie, pop, etc
