DESIGN/ DECOR STYLES

Arts and Crafts

Craftsmanship is key in this handmade folk style. It originated as an anti-industrial reaction and also stood for social economic reform.

Characteristics include:

- wood with prominent grain
- blocky shapes
- rectilinear shape
- exposed joints
- clean but strong lines
- minimal accent detailing

Classic Contemporary

Complementary colors guide the eye around the room for an uninterrupted emphasis. This innocuous style is recognizable through the use of simplified shapes, a mix of soft and smooth textures.

Characteristics include:

- round furniture/lines
- soft lines
- smooth textures

Contemporary

This style has evolved considerably since its birth and is now a combination of the old and new. Some contemporary ideas are influenced by nature, futuristic style and cutting edge aspects; others lean toward industrial, technical and oversimplified style.

Characteristics include:

- straight lines
- sharp corners

Country

updated country bedroom

There are many subcategories to this style, but almost all versions have a cozy and quaint feel to them. The palette is a mixture of colors and prints. Distressed wood is frequently used, as well as antiques that have an old barn or farmhouse vibe.

Characteristics include:

- distressed wood
- antiques
- raw wood exposed beams
- soft colors
- small prints and plaids

Eclectic

Possibly the most difficult decor to describe, it's essentially a combination of all others. Matching a myriad of styles is heavily encouraged, typically incorporating vintage and bright colors.

Characteristics include:

- vintage pieces
- bright colors
- pieces from all different styles
- contemporary offbeat items
- mixed motifs

Modern

This style originated in the 1900s with the Bauhaus Movement, an architectural and visual ideal where form and function came together. Furniture was starting to be mass produced in a manner that was pleasing to the eye, whereas it was once commissioned one piece at a time by the wealthy. Then, a manufacturing shift occurred and produced a host of new materials, including:

- chrome
- black leather
- glass

-- Ultrasuede

Other characteristics include:

- natural forms of materials or lacquered finishes

- simplified shapes

- functionality
