I have dreamed up a gimmick (the best word I could think to use) that will promote absurd moments and objects so irrational that observers may disbelieve the existence of the pieces. It may lead to ridicule, but I'm not worried at all about that, I have acquired a lot of ambition surrounding this project that, perhaps, later it may conform with more possibilities for platforms, such as radio, television, comic books, etc. For me, it's intended to be a side project as photography and filmmaking are hobbies of mine.

This 'trove' of absurdities shall encompass 1,000 photographs and videos, all to be featured on a variety of networks (YouTube, FaceBook, Flickr and Tumblr). What makes this unique is that I will be using my iPhone to create these pieces, with a variety of apps that I have accumulated.

This is not a project for everyone. In fact, this will be a volunteer basis. And as long as this ad is up, I'm still in the process of creating these.

I do hope to create these with other imaginative people. Actors, Actresses and Models are encouraged to come forward, Again, volunteer basis. No money.

Age Range: 19 and up

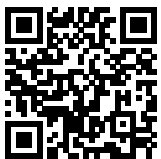

Some pieces may be suggestive, but there will never be any nude or pornographic images created. Vulgarity is likely, but not intended.

Submit headshot for consideration.
