Hi, I am looking for a Windows computer training class. I have a new computer that I bought and had windows 7 I think loaded on" the one that has the touch icons". However I am legally blind and use the computer with a program called Zoom text to speech problem is I have no clue how to operate the new Windows operating system. However I'm going to start classes and I need to have a Windows operating system computer. I'm currently using an Apple iPad for all of my daily computer needs however it won't work for my classes. And when I eventually get a job I will definitely need to know how to use the new operating system. A group class will be fine . however I would prefer a one-on-one class just because of my special needs.

Wish list :

if anyone knows of a class specifically for the visually impaired or for people with special needs please let me know.
