I have 2006 bmw 1e90 325i that needs a oil pan gasket replaced. I already bought the gasket and the aluminum bolts required. Its a pretty easy job i just dont feel like doing it. I work on my cars all the time i just dont have the time with work and everything else. I am sure that this will not take any more then two hours. So i am willing to pay $50.00 an hour. Thats $100.00 bucks for all you math geniuses.And please know what you are doing. This my baby. I dont need something going wrong. If i do not find someone im just gonna do it my self. Thank you for checking out my add and hope to here from some cool bmw enthusiasts that can do a good job for.
