Have you ever wanted to see your car in a film? Now is your chance! A young talented filmmaker from Brooklyn College is shooting a movie on Shelter Island with a crew of 20, drone shots, and locations that include sailboats. It is a touching story of a second chances and dealing with one's own mortality, something we can all relate to. The opening scene calls for our protagonist to pull up to the house in a luxury sports car, like a Porsche. The car would only be used for 3 or 4 hours maximum, most likely less! We would give you a credit in a movie that will be seen all over the globe in film festivals too! We need your help, be a part of our team!

Where: Shelter Island
 When: Monday August 17th AM

Here is a link to our kickstarter video, which gives you an idea of the story as well what we are capable of as a crew.
