Found the sweetest young male husky crossing the interstate Sunday afternoon. I called to him and he came over right away, he was kinda scared of all the traffic and smelled like he rolled on some dead carcas. He's at the Kearney animal shelter, he had a thin brown collar and the vet couldn't find a microchip, no tags. If he doesn't find his owners hopefully someone adopts this sweet boy. He was good with cats but didn't see him around any dogs, I'm sure he'd do fine since he's so submissive. He's great on a!
