first I'd like to say that without seeing a car is not hard I have all the equipment myself to do it. but to get your d and then all of the scratches removed and then wax say something I prefer to leave to the professionals. that being said what I received from Advanced Auto Care was far from that. I paid $200 to have my scratches removed from my truck and a nice coat of wax put on it for the summer. guy spent about an hour and a half on the vehicle said it was done I came out and took a look at it and it looked OK. It was in the shade so you really couldn't see anything particular on a white vehicle. Afterwards after the wax that was left on it had dried and was starting to show. & I got the truck in the sunlight. It was very obvious that all of the swirl marks we're still in the paint only some big scratches removed and there was wax dried on left all over the car. things were wax that are never supposed to be waxed the (door pillar) on the passenger side of the truck not the driver side. Wax was on plastic parts of the vehicle that you can see in the photos. Anyone that knows anything about my ex and I was never get wax on the plastic it will always be there. It was very hard to get pictures of it so I marked a lot of it with blue tape there was still a lot I left unmarked but you get the idea. Some pictures I was actually able to get photos of the dried on wax and swirl marks still left in the paint. this was my $200 mistake with Advanced Auto Care.

I'm sure he will try and change the name of his business especially since you can order massive amounts of business cards for close to nothing. his name is Ryan henin and the phone number he uses is 97122162 54. So if you see that name or number under a different auto care banner you know who you're dealing.
