I can help you with your book from soup to nuts...or writing to publishing! Whether you need editing or the entire project ghostwritten, it will all be professionally done. From there we go to developing cover art and any needed illustrations in the book. Finally, the book will be published and available on all important outlets like Amazon, Barnes & Noble, etc.

Here at Authormax, I have effectively helped folks edit their manuscripts for publication. I have also ghost written books for clients. Ghostwriting is the process of taking your ideas and making a book or novel out it. We have successfully done this for both fiction and non-fiction.

Rates for both editing and ghostwriting are reasonable, and we work with you until you are happy with the final product. Pair that up with counseling on how to go about getting published, marketed, etc. and we are the go-to place for writers that need a little boost to bring their work to the public.

Almost everyone feels like they have a book inside of them. Bringing this book to the written page is not easy for most people though. (This is also true of writing an article, blog, or business report. . .we do that too.)
