Every brand has a story to tell. Stories that not only engage, inform, and impact their audience, but stories that will also deliver on measurable business goals. And I am the conduit between brand and consumer.

I help clients find the subject and medium that best fits their unique identity, and then I produce high-quality content that meets their objectives.

Currently, I am a location independent content strategist who has a home base in central Vermont but works with clients all over the world.

My specialties include banking, consumer behavior, organizational leadership, social responsibility, and strategic management. I'll also write about anything, so don't let my niches stop you from getting in touch.

Contact me today via my website at www.amandatallman.com if this sounds like something you need!

One caveat: I don't write reports for students (but I would be willing to offer some coaching on how to write them at my normal hourly rate). Trust me students, pay attention in your report writing classes because that's one skill that will come in handy after!
