I have a plow truck that has a broken plow mount on one side under truck. I bought the new part, need someone to install it. If interested you MUST have automotive skills to do this and minor welding maybe needed. I do have hand tools and a small welder for this work. I would like to add some extra supports (maybe). and we may have to take some time to straighten the mount, it isn't sitting level right now because of the broken part. The shop in sioux city where I bought the part said it would take about an hour and would cost about $100 in labor, so that is the MOST I am willing to pay. You can respond to this ad if you are interested, and you can come by and take a look at the job.
