I'm looking for a roommate this upcoming school year. I am a 22 year old economics major finishing up my degree at UW. I'm easy going and don't have a bunch of house rules. I don't party, hardly ever drink, and school always comes first for me, however, I do like to hangout and have fun as much as possible.

A little bit about the apartment. It is only 4 blocks from UW and is part of a complex. Rent is $680, so $340 a person and I figure after utilities, electric and internet, it should be about $385 a person. I'll be entering the apartment with no furniture or television but, I am willing to go halvesies on everything.

If you have anymore questions about the apartment or me, or anything, just shoot me an email.

Also the first month rent is due the 14th of August and a first and last month rent and security deposit are due, so about .
