

Redemption Help Needed (Stafford)

Location Virginia

I have been recently released from jail where I served nearly 7 months for a DWI offense. During this time I had an opportunity to reflect on my careless behavior and not only accept responsibility for my actions but also become very grateful that my selfishness did not result in some horrific unrepairable damage to an innocent person, family or myself.

I have been released now for nearly a week and although I am following all of the proper avenues for assistance I am continually turning up dead ends so I decided to reach out to my community where hopefully I might find the help I need.

As a result of my actions I have lost my home, my career, the respect of my friends and family, my dignity and my privilege to drive in the state of Virginia for a period of one year. I need to work, though without driving it is becoming difficult to fathom how I would be able to maintain employment and now that I have a felony conviction on my record it makes it all that more difficult.

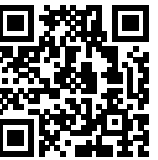

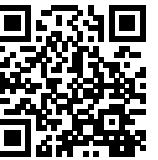

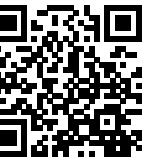

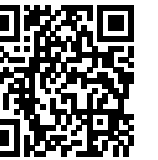

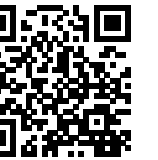

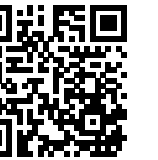

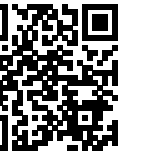

I am asking for help to put my life back together. Financial help is appreciated but no expected. Guidance, insight and wisdom from experienced people will also be gratefully appreciated.

My education is technical; Residential, Commercial and Industrial HVAC, Boilers, Plumbing and Electrical with over 17 years of practical experience and I am truly a hard and diligent worker.

I am also a father to a beautiful 4 year old little girl who deserves the best father she can have. I am humbly asking for help to be the father she needs me to be as well as the man that I know I can be again.

Thank you for taking the time to read this, any and all help is appreciated.

Respectfully,
