I just moved this out of my enclosed shop and no longer plan on needing it due to shoulder damage and surgery. It is made of heavy grade steel. The lift frame is rated for 2-tons. It has a 8 - ton high lift hydraulic ram jack; which gives much more lifting height and smoother lifting and lowering. The 4 legs are telescoping for more stability when needed. The wheels are also high quality steel.

The high lift ram is excellent for lifting and handling both the engine and transmission bolted together at the same time. This allows for much more clearance above the automobile body and more room to work. I have used on pickup trucks and can say that it beats the hell out of the standard length jacks barely getting high enough over the car or truck, fighting to get it to clear, and worrying about it buckling under the weight or toppling over!

Everything is in very good working condition. It has not been exposed to or used in the weather. It is dusty because I also did painting and body work. I moved it out of my shop and into my covered carport on Saturday. The $125.00 CASH today only. I can't haul and deliver, but I will help load.

 Thank.
