We are a women's clothing company currently on eBay and Amazon. We are looking to expand to our own site and need a web developer/designer to create it from scratch for us on a contractual, short-term basis.

After created, we are looking for this person/team to train our employees on basic updates and editing, including managing inventory.

The site needs to be created using Magento. The site needs to be responsive. We are looking for the basic women's clothing categories: shop, lookbook, blog, etc. with subcategories. We will need social media icons/links. We will also need an "about us" section along with a "my account" section and a "my cart" and "my hearts section" and customer friendly checkout process. We will also need a "customer care" section with returns etc.

We will provide photos and copyrighting. We may or may not require marketing, SEO etc. help.

Please respond with your rate for this project or whatever questions you may have to determine rate in addition to examples of work.

Thank-you in!
