Singer wanted for original band with some covers. We are a 3 piece alt/hard rock band and are looking to add a singer to fill out our sound and be part of creative process. Age and gender is not important to us, just be cool and a good person. Same with experience, would be helpful but not a deal breaker. Guitarist is currently singing but he's limited and would rather be freed up to just concentrate on guitar. We have a solid 8 originals completed and some more that need lyrics so if you're a lyric writer. We also play some covers to fill out set list but our goal is to be mostly original. We are close to playing out, have recieved quite a bit of airplay on internet stations, podcasts and some college radio. We have one of our songs coming out on a compilation album too. We are all in our 40's with families so this is mainly for fun but we're serious about writing some good.
